This still, discovered in full blast, the fire going and the attendants work ing industriously, was unearthed in a deep gulch in the heart of Wahiawa not more than a mile from the postoffice. The running of the plant required no capital, other than care and watchfulness, and there must have been big returns for a large gang of Japanese and other laborers are work ing on a dam and a ditch in that vi cinity. The workmen may have been the consumers, though it is a matter of indifference to the authorities who consumed the liquor. The still was not registered as required by Federal statute, and therefore the distillers are answerable to the law and must suffer fine or imprisonment or both if convicted. Their cases will be presented to the next Federal Grand Jury. providing, of course, that United States Commissioner Judd holds them over after preliminary examination, for that in such fashion that the bill might be

"CONGRESS OF SONG" AT HAWAIIAN OPERA HO. SE

MAGNIFICENT CHORUS WILL SING TOMORROW NIGHT - THREE HUNDRED VOICES IN ORATORIO.

Everything is now ready for the Congress of Song" at Hawaiian Opers | SOAP BOXES: House tomorrow evening Prof. Gerard
Barton has had three full rehearsals
And then we have also Shaving Sticks and Collapsible Shaving Brushes. with the great chorus and now has it under perfect control. This has been made possible on account of the ex cellent training each section has had from the different leaders and when the combination was effected there of the late Rey. Thos. Smith will be was only the necessary attention to Prof. Barton's baton to follow the into the mainland for interment in the torio above the mechanical beat of the metronome.

A New Store The rapid development of the chorus and the masterly way in which it has taken hold of such classics a Mozart's "Gloria" from "Twelfth Mass ow—no darkroom needed in any part and "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lo hengrin" has been a great surprise to Prof. Barton and has given cause for considerable enthusiasm not only in the director but also in every individual member of the assembly. This give confidence and the two combined are ritally important to the rendition of such majestic music. The enthusiasn and confidence will be there the night and perfect balance of voices all blend to make the oratorio of a most inspir ing nature.

Although seeming little room for Im provement, Prof. Barton is too thor ough a leader to leave any possible flaw in the work, so he has called a final rehearsal for tomorrow. The practice is as much for the singers to quickly take their places as for the singing. When the curtain rises and brings to view over three hundred vo calists, all arrayed in beautiful colors the effect will be splendid; all will rice to the taps of the baton and, to the accompaniment of organ and plane sing in a manner that has never been equaled in this city.

Seminary, Oahu College, Kameham hameha Schools, Mills Institute and Normal and High Schools will each ontribute to the success of the per formance.

The box plan is now open at Wall, Nichols Co. Any who have bought exchange tickets should lose no time in
